

My Reading Life

A book log

SIGIL AND SCRIBE

My Reading Life

A book log from Sigil and Scribe

One page for every book. Room for 100 books.

How to use this log

Every book you finish gets one page. Write the title and the author, when you started and when you finished, and how you would rate it: color in the stars, one for a book that was not for you, five for a book you would press into a friend's hands.

Save the line you want to keep: the sentence you underlined, the one you read twice, the one you are still thinking about.

Then write what it left you with. A feeling, an idea, a question, a small change. Books leave things behind. This is where you keep them.

At the back is a wishlist for the books you want to read next. When you finish one, cross it off here and give it a page of its own.

No hurry and no catching up. A year with three books in it is a fine reading year.

BOOK 1

Title:

Author:

Started: Finished:

I gave it: ☆ ☆ ☆ ☆ ☆

Genre:

The line I want to keep:

What it left me with:

BOOK 2

Title:

Author:

Started: Finished:

I gave it: ☆ ☆ ☆ ☆ ☆

Genre:

The line I want to keep:

What it left me with:

BOOK 3

Title:

Author:

Started: Finished:

I gave it: ☆ ☆ ☆ ☆ ☆

Genre:

The line I want to keep:

What it left me with:

BOOK 4

Title:

Author:

Started: Finished:

I gave it: ☆ ☆ ☆ ☆ ☆

Genre:

The line I want to keep:

What it left me with: